THE BYSTRŮICE REGION

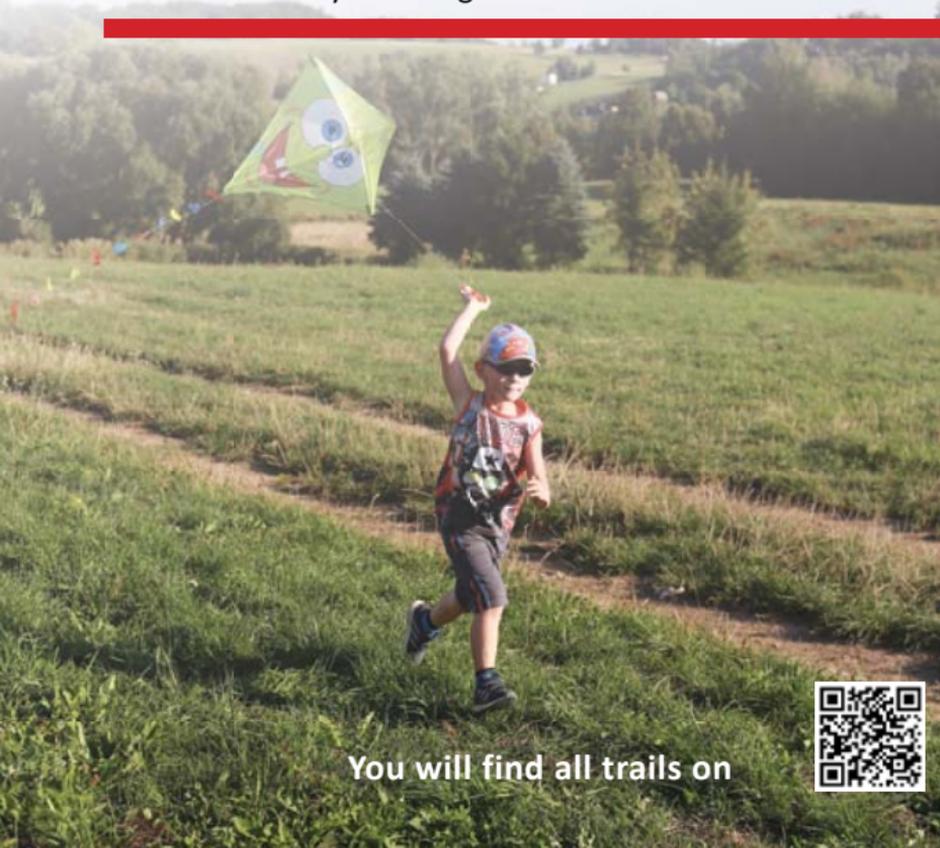

Bystrčicko is an ideal place for hiking. Rivers, ponds, observation towers and remnants of history in the beautiful countryside of Svratecká Hornatina will excite anyone who loves nature, history and folk architecture. On your trips, you can discover the Zubštejn castle ruins, Aueršperk and Pyšolec; beautiful secluded places along the Svatka river and the hilly countryside around the Vír dam. Other trips will take you to the surroundings of Štěpánov nad Svatkou, Nedvědice and Lísek. Furthermore, since 2015 the Bystrčice region has been a part of the Koruna Vysočiny (The Vysočina Crown) tourist area, which includes the eastern part of the Bohemian-Moravian Highlands from the Žďár hills to Tišnov. This region joins and presents the best of the Žďár, Nové Město, Bystrčice, Nedvědice, Tišnov, Velké Meziříčí and Bíteš regions and connects people working for the tourist industry in these regions.

Thanks to the water in the countryside and the way it is presented to visitors through nature trails, the Bystrčice Region received the title EDEN (European Destination of Excellence) in 2010.

Nature Trails

These are special circuits or linear trails with information boards and usually marked in a specific way. They can make a trip more interesting or they can be used for a hike or a walk, depending on their length. The only exception is the Svatka Water-Management Trail, which is linear and longer than the other ones.

1. The Svatka Water-Management Trail

A trail from Dalečín to Švařec along the Svatka river and the Vír dam. The nature trail is 16 km long and it is dedicated to water management, water in the countryside and human activities.

2. The Bystřice Stops

This is a successful continuation of the Svatka Water-Management Trail. There are 17 stops loosely placed in the countryside between the Vír dam and Bystřice nad Pernštejnem and they inform about nature, the countryside and human activities in them.

3. On Nature Trails Towards Pernštejn

These are three circuits going from Nedvědice, past the Pernštejn castle and on to either Smrček, Sejřek or Doubravník. The information boards give interesting information about the history of Nedvědice and the Pernštejn castle as well as about memorable places and trees. The boards also contain a number of interesting samples of architecture.

4. Štěpánov's Four Leaf Clover

The trail is connected with the historical ore mining of various colours around Štěpánov nad Svatkou and Koroužné. There are eleven stops.

The EDEN Centre – The Paradise Full of Fun in Vysočina

The Eco-Pavilion will introduce you to modern technologies and their methods of using the energy of earth, fire, water and air. Do you know how many meters you need to cycle before you make a gramophone start playing? You don't? So come to the centre. You can also come to regular gastronomic events such as Carnival in February, Harvest Supper in August or Potato Festival in September. You can also ride a horse or taste products from our farm.
