CURRENCY

The currency used in Czech Republic is the Czech Crown (not Euro!). It is called “koruna” (crown, abbreviated Kč), coins in the following denominations are in circulation: 1,2,5,10,20 and 50 crowns.

In addition there are the following notes: 100, 200, 500, 1,000, 2,000 and 5,000 crowns. Beware of currency exchange tellers which promise rates that are too good to be true – they will charge exorbitant exchange fees. According to Czech National Bank, 1 USD = 23.022 CZK, 1 EUR = 25.570 CZK, more currencies you can find here. Here is the picture how Czech crown banknotes look like. All major credit and debit cards are widely accepted at shops, hotels, banks and ATM machines. Euros are usually not accepted. Therefore, we recommend having some cash in Czech Crowns. You can exchange cash in banks (usually some small fee is applied) or at exchange office (where exchange rates can vary) or use an ATM machine to withdraw – there are a lot of them in the cities.

CZECH LANGUAGE

Czech is one of the West Slavic languages, along with Slovak, Polish and Lusatian Sorbian. It is spoken by most people in the Czech Republic and by Czechs all over the world (about 12 million native speakers in total). Czech is quite close to and mutually intelligible with Slovak and, to a lesser degree, to Polish or to Sorbian in East Germany. As for the relation between Czech and Slovak, speakers of these languages usually understand the other language pretty well both in its written form and spoken.

One beer, please.	Jedno pivo, prosím.
Two beers, please.	Dvě piva, prosím.
Yes	Ano
No	Ne
My name is ...	Jmenuji se...
How are you?	Jak se máte?
Do you speak English?	Mluvíte anglicky?
I don't speak Czech.	Nemluví česky.
I don't understand	Nerozumím.
Thank you.	Děkuji.
Hi / Bye	Ahoj
Excuse me.	S dovolením.

Where is...? Kde je...?

Useful Czech phrases and words. The pronunciation is simple, in that words are pronounced the same way as they are written. Taken from 1 and 2.

Do people in Czech speak English?

Apart from Czech language, which is the language of 98% of the population. Czechs can be divided into three groups: The first one, the older generation – above 80 years old, speaks German, the middle group, people between 40 and 80 should be able to speak Russian as most of them studied it at school.

Young people speak English. English is more and more popular among the older generations too – it's the language of online world and social media as well as business and trade and a lot of people attend language courses in order to catch up with the rest of the world. Also, you can learn a few phrases or just words in Czech prior to your visit. It is fun, and the locals will appreciate it.
